Excise Commissioner's No: 427/15,
of the 22nd/26 July 1895.

1. In reply to queries 1 and 2 of the above, has the honor to state that the defaulter Parthasarathy Naidu is not a pauper, he is a respectable Arche Pensioner and held the contract of these Farms for 1893-94 with credit and punctuality in paying the rental and attending to other matters connected with the Farms and its only owing to this and the knowledge that he was suffering loss that respite was given and his sudden failure owing to severe loss and sudden death of his patron the wealthy Landlord Mr. Rungiah Hebbar of Kalasa, was quite unexpected.

2. With reference to query 3, the arrears due were for the 3 months viz January, February and March 1895 liquidate which the 3 months security deposit was taken.

3. As regards query 4. Begs to state that this vend Farmer could have have paid this amount, if the untimely death of Mr. Rungiah Nebbar from whom he was expecting some assistance, had not occured. Notwithstanding, the Amildar did take the necessary steps and the resale of the farms was advertized prior to 3 months which having become due. The undersigned would take this opportunity of stating that there would have been a greater loss if the farms were resold earlier owing to the scarcity in this Taluq and its only owing to the prospect of a rainy season for the remaining portions of the lease that a bid of Rs: 121/- was fetched.

4. The approximate value of Parthasarathy Naidu's house is about Rs: 100/- and it is encumbered with a civil decree for Rs: 80/-.

5. The remission statement is herewith resubmitted with the necessary corrections.
